2019 N4C Spring Mini-Convention

Wesley Woods Camp & Retreat Center, south of Indianola, Iowa

May 3-4-5th, 2019

We had our first thaw in March, giving us hope of spring, but we will have to wait a while longer for all the ice and snow to melt. I am sure, though, that by May 3-4 spring will have arrived in Iowa, the snow will have melted, and the colors of spring will be bursting out. Why do I pick May 3-4? The Spring Mini-Convention of course!

The schedule for the Spring Mini-Convention is set. As mentioned in the N4C News Bulletin last month, we have an excellent variety of programs, including photo tips, travelogues, and opportunities to explore and shoot. Be sure to bring your cameras and tripods!

This year we will be at Wesley Woods Camp & Retreat Center, which is 20 miles south of Des Moines, or 7 miles southwest of Indianola. A map and directions are included below. The facilities are an excellent fit to our needs. The lodging, in particular, looks to be an upgrade from the dormitory style we have had in the past. Most rooms will be two per room (we will not use the upper bunks), so you may want to name a roommate and save Larry Meister the task of pairing you up.
